APRIL MEETING

*** How we relate to one another is influenced by many things. Not the least of which are existing law and politics. Understanding the dynamics provides a base for action and decision.

Our next speaker, Thomas F. Coleman, will discuss "Personal Privacy as a Legal and Political Strategy for the 1980's and Beyond." Mr. Coleman is Executive Director of the State Commission on Personal Privacy. He practices law in Los Angeles specializing in appellate litigation on behalf of the gay community and special legal projects. Also Coleman founded the Sexual Law Reporter, a national legal periodical which deals with gay-rights and allied issues. His opinions are based on solid experience.
