 October 12 & 13, 1990

A Conference for Lesbian Couples

Once in a while a perfect opportunity comes along . . . A day meant especially for you and the one you love. If your relationship is on the rocks, in deep trouble, or still in the dating phase, this day is not for you. But, if you have a good relationship that isn't perfect, keep reading! Does your relationship with that special woman in your life get all the attention and time it needs and deserves? Or, do jobs, business, family, friends, organizations, housekeeping and laundry claim more of your attention and time than the relationship you say is the most important one in your life? The world of the 1990s is not the easiest place to be a lesbian couple. But you already know that! We're ready to offer support and encouragement as you invest in yourself and your relationship. Strengthen the good relationship you've spent time and energy creating by giving each other an oasis of time together. Conference Organizers:: Paula J. Schoenwether, MFCC and Rev. Nancy L. Wilson, Pastor MCC, Los Angeles.
