Outstanding Book Authors

Marshall Miller and Dorian Solot

The American Association for Single People is pleased to present this award for Outstanding Book Authorship to Co-Authors Marshall Miller and Dorian Solot of Albany, New York.

With cohabitation of unmarried partners at an all time high and with cohabitation now a normal part of the marital decision-making process for most couples, there has been the need for a comprehensive "advice and resources" book for unmarried couples.

Themselves involved in a long-term committed unmarried relationship, and themselves advocates for domestic partnership rights, Dorian Solot and Marshall Miller have published such a book. Published last year, Unmarried to Each Other: The Essential Guide to Living Together as an Unmarried Couple is filled with social, psychological, economic, and legal information for cohabiting couples, whether gay or straight or bisexual.

Not only has the book been helpful to unmarried couples in need of advice, it has been an educational tool to bring the media and the political establishment up to date on the reality and pervasiveness of cohabitation and the needs of unmarried couples.

Dorian Solot and Marshall Miller are outstanding book authors who, by publishing their book, have done a great service to advance the movement for equal rights for domestic partners.
